FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

TRUAUDIO AV-83 Wins Product of the Year Award

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH – July, 2006. Hundreds of outstanding products are considered for Product of the Year in what is one of the most prestigious awards in the industry - conducted by one of the most respected magazines - with arguably the longest history in Custom AV – The Electronic House Magazine Product of the Year.

Once again, TruAudio is pleased to announce that one of our products - the AV-83 InWall speaker has won the award for InWall speakers for 2006. TruAudio is proud to have won the award in the InCeiling category in 2005 for the Revolve LCR.1.

The AV-83 is designed to perform as the front left, center, or right for a Home Cinema system or simply a high performance stereo pair. It features carbon fiber woofers and midrange drivers and titanium tweeters along with an amazing crossover design. The Midrange and Tweeter are mounted on a rotating plate so you can mount the speakers vertically or horizontally while keeping the drivers on the same plane. These also now incorporate our innovative EZ Grill for quick and easy install and removal. The quality components, attention to detail, and extensive testing, produce clean sound and high output – outstanding for music and movies. TruAudio thanks Electronic House Magazine and the staff for choosing the TruAudio AV-83 for this important award.

Cindy Davis, Editor-in-Chief, Electronic House Magazine writes:

“The editors of EH Publishing’s four magazines that are dedicated to the electronic house all choose their favorite products. It is a democratic voting process. And although it’s fun, this has got to be one of our most difficult jobs. Our decisions are based on reviews we ran throughout the year, product demos, and talking with the installers and users of the products. Topping our list of criteria is technological innovation, combined with overall value—and just plain outstanding features.”

*Best,
Cindy Davis, Editor-in-Chief*
